OCTOBER TEA at PINECONE COTTAGE

Much of my culinary inspiration comes from our half acre organic garden. During the season, the day's harvest often makes its way from the garden to our customers' plate in just a few hours. The Seed Savers Exchange, just outside of Decorah, Iowa, is the source of most of our garden seeds. Since 1975 they have been growing, saving and sharing heirloom and rare seed varieties. Our visit to their 1890s farm and display gardens of nearly 1,000 seed types inspired this Afternoon Tea. October's menu is designed to incorporate as many items from this year's garden harvest as possible. I believe we need to keep heirlooms where they belong ... on the table.
